

Bathroom Trends

AXOR CITTERIO M

AXOR
hanaglobe

The new Axor Citterio M collection is inspired by modern life in the city. M for Modernism, Metropolis and Milan, the home of the designer.

The concept opens up and brings in areas to maximize functionality and therefore adds interest in its design. A bathroom is not just a bathroom anymore.

AXOR MASSAUD

Combine elements like water, natural lighting, stones, plants, wood and sand. Creating harmony with nature.

AXOR & DURAVIT STARCK

Luxury or just the Bare Essentials

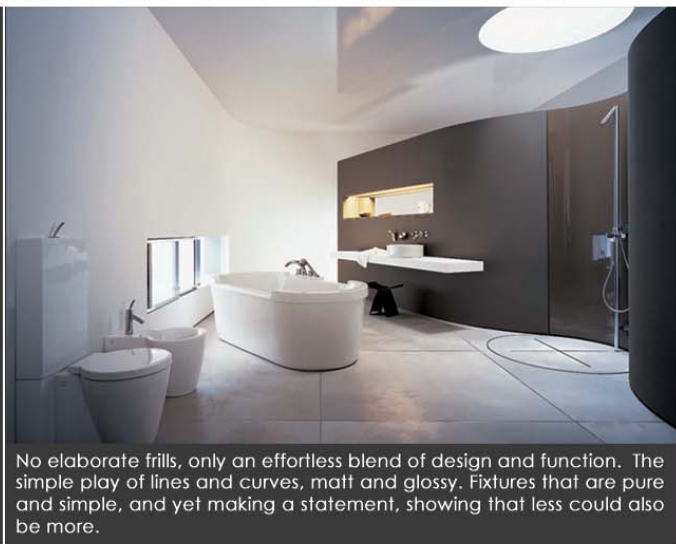

Luxury without boundaries. Maximizing even minimalism. Art as everyday pieces like designer fixtures and collector's items serving fundamental purposes. Experience art to its fullest.

Sometimes the bare essentials are all you need. Efficient layouting combined with built-in storages, concealed fittings and hanging fixtures can make even the most compact of spaces highly functional.

Extreme Modern Minimalism

No elaborate frills, only an effortless blend of design and function. The simple play of lines and curves, matt and glossy. Fixtures that are pure and simple, and yet making a statement, showing that less could also be more.

Even some individual favorite styles like rustic and Mediterranean can be given a modern minimalist touch. Earth tones, natural wood and lighting, textured walls, combine with modern fixtures, and personal accessories provide a refreshing alternative to the expected norm.

Urban Chic or Classic Modern

Urban chic is as much a concept as it is a lifestyle. It connotes function as well as style, a quiet statement of who we really are.

Mixing styles is one of the latest trends in architecture and ambience. Classical mixes with modern, baroque with futuristic. An example is using contemporary fixtures with classic fittings and accessories... adding old world charm to modern day sophistication.

